Safety professionals encouraged to submit articles for 2010 Safety Leader's Discussion Guide

BWC's Division of Safety & Hygiene (DSH) is accepting articles for its annual Safety Leader's Discussion Guide. The guide features a different safety topic for each month of the year. Supervisors or safety committees can use the guide to encourage participation and interaction by employees. A DSH committee of safety professionals will select the 13 to 14 topics that we will ultimately publish based on technical accuracy, quality and the topic's timeliness in the industry and work force. Articles should include cited references, associated regulations and a list of additional resources for further use and development by the user. In the published guide, the article is an 8 1/2 x 11, portrait, two-page spread.

DSH will accept articles April 1 to July 31, 2009. All articles become the property of the State of Ohio and will be subject to public information rules. We will review articles in August. We will publish the articles we select in December. We will post articles not chosen for publication at ohiobwc.com as an additional resource for Ohio employers and employees.

You can find previous years' Safety Leader's Discussion Guides at ohiobwc.com under the BWC Library link. Select E-Publications, then Safety Publications, and you will find a list of all downloadable educational guides and manuals. DSH encourages articles on a variety of timely occupational safety and health topics.

To submit an article, complete this form, attach it with your article submission and send an e-mail to discussionguide@bwc.state.oh.us or a fax to 614-365-4971.
