Dr. David Michaels confirmed to assume post as head of OSHA

Dr. David Michaels, the George Washington University public health professor was confirmed by the U.S. Senate late on Thursday, December 3, to be the next Assistant Secretary of the Department of Labor for the Occupational Safety and Health Administration. In response ASSE President Chris Patton, CSP, said,

"ASSE looks forward to working with Assistant Secretary Michaels. He brings unique capabilities and an outlook that seems willing to try new approaches to advancing occupational safety and health and an interest in reaching out to safety, health and environmental professionals, which ASSE's members appreciate. ASSE is pleased that the leadership team at OSHA is now in place so our members can understand the directions in OSHA will be moving."

8th Annual ASSE Kids "Safety on the Job" Poster Contest

With the holidays close by now is the time to encourage your children, nieces, nephews, sisters, brothers, friends, co-workers' kids and more aged 5-14 to enter the 8th annual ASSE kids' 'Safety-on-the-Job' poster contest. The rules and entry form are below and can also be found on our new North American Occupational Safety and Health (NAOSH, May 2-8) Week 2010 and Occupational Safety and Health Professional Day (May 5, 2010) web site at this link:

<http://www.asse.org/newsroom/naosh10/>

There are 5 age groups and the first place winners each win a $1,000 savings bond. Second place winners receive a $500 savings bond and third and fourth place winners a $200 savings bond. All entrants are winners! Everyone receives a letter from ASSE President C. Christopher Patton, CSP, and ASSE Executive Director Fred Fortman along with a small gift. The winners posters are featured on the annual NAOSH poster distributed to companies, schools, hospitals and more worldwide in April and May. Also, we will have our annual events for the poster contest winners/entrants and their families (all are invited), ASSE members, federal and Congressional officials and more on Monday, May 3, in Washington, D.C., at the Smithsonian (featuring a focus on workplace safety Smithsonian exhibits), the U.S. Department of Labor and at the U.S. Capitol. We also hope to have the NAOSH kick-off brunch Sunday, May 2, at the National Zoo as we have in the past.

Remember, entrants just need an ASSE member sponsor/number. It is open to non-members. Many members will again be sponsoring schools/school districts and their co-workers' children. It is a lot of fun and we look forward to seeing a ton of posters by the Valentine's Day, February 14, 2010 deadline! So sit down with the children and help them develop a poster that best displays workplace safety.

See pg. 4 & 5 for contest rules and entry form.
